Facilitating Social Enterprise in the New Cork City Development Plan

Caibidil: Volume 1 - Written Statement» 13.
Implementation

Ábhair: Delivery, Partnerships

Social Enterprise Republic of Ireland (SERI) is the representative body for social enterprises in Ireland.

We have been made aware that many of the city and county councils around Ireland are working on their future Development plan, and may not have considered the potential that Social Enterprise has in Ireland.

Please find attached a letter from the SERI Board outlining why we feel the Social Enterprise sector should be considered as an essential part of the development plan.

Eochairfhocail: social enterprise

Príomh-thuairim:

Social Enterprise sector should be considered as an essential part of the development plan.

Príomh-iarratais:

Social Enterprise sector should be considered as an essential part of the development plan.

Main reasons:

Local Authorities play a key role in leading the social, economic and cultural development of local areas.
