Caibidil: Volume 1 - Written Statement» 3. Delivering Homes and Communities

Ábhair: Delivering homes and sustainable neighbourhoods

Presently there are a considerable number of derelict buildings in cork which have been allowed to decay which the council has not addressed and could be used by the council to renovate for housing. As well as empty buildings which could be re-purposed until landlords have a use for them.

Also there is many historical buildings which are being completely demolished and there appears to be very little effort made to preserve even the facades of some of these beautiful buildings and therefore losing a lot of cork history.
