This submission requests Cork City Council, in assessing the capacity of the northside of the extended City to absorb additional residential development to meet the significant uplift in population required by national and regional policy, to give consideration to the inclusion of the remainder of this vacant, undeveloped, and underutilised area of land (c. 10ha) at Kilcully.

Having regard to their location within and adjacent to the development boundary of the Cork City North Environs, there is merit in considering the potential of the subject lands to contribute to the delivery of the significant uplift in population and housing required for the expanded City, of which the North Environs now forms part.
